PAJAMA EXHIBIT IN

DOMESTIC ROW CASE.

AGED CATTLEMEN DENIES HE ASSAULTED YOUNG BRIDE WHO ACCUSES HIM.

A tattered and torn suit of pajamas, with coat and trousers marked, respectively, exhibits A and B, were produced yesterday as evidence in Police Judge Crawford's court in the University district, when Charles G. Myers, the aged and wealthy husband of Mrs. Iona Myers, took the stand, late yesterday, to defend himself against the charge of assault and battery preferred by his spouse. The latter was again in court, still wearing the bandages over the eyes which she alleges was badly injured by her husband in a scuffle at the fashionable home of the couple yesterday afternoon, which ended in the arrest of the retired cattleman.

The latter denied he struck his wife, except in self-defense, flatly contradicting her testimony of the day before, although he admitted the conversation about the project of engaging a housekeeper with a young child, and his wife's proposal that they have children together.

Far from attacking her, he declared he was undressed, in bed and asleep before he had any intimation of the attack. He was awakened, he averred, by her conversation at the phone and overheard her calling the police. When he was called back to the phone, he declared, and he then notified the police there was no occasion for their coming.

Mrs. Myers then attacked him, he said, with the result that his pajamas were torn to ribbons and he was badly scratched, her attention attracted by the noise. She was at last driven to use force to protect himself.

His testimony was not completed. The case was continued until 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Both Mr. and Mrs. Myers have divorce actions pending. They were married last March 14.

THREE ARE ARRESTED UNDER WAR DRY ACT.

The first arrests in Los Angeles for violation of the War-time Prohibition laws were made last night when Officers Lucas and Barnett of the Metropolitan Squad raided the Mason Restaurant at 116 West Broadway street, where three men, liquor valued at $10,000 and arrested, the proprietor, Joseph Frimlich, and two waiters, John Visalovich and Louis Storace.

Two trips of the police patrol were necessary to convey the evidence to Central Station, since the Superior Court has ruled that the Gardner city liquor licensing ordinance is null and void inasmuch as it refers to the Federal authorities for protection.

The proprietor and waiters were released under bond of $200 each.

According to the arresting officers, the place has been under observation for some time, and they alleged that anyone could be served with any kind of wine and that if a request for whisky was made to be had, goods most of the confiscated ware would consist of various kinds of beverages. Many cases of whisky were also found.

Attorney Guy Eddis was retained by the defendants.

POWER VOTE RECOUNT CUTS THE PLURALITY.

MARGIN FOR EDISON SYSTEM PURCHASE SLICED; BONDS ALSO LOSE BALLOTS.

The special boards recounting the votes cast in the election of June 3, authorizing the contract of the city of Los Angeles to buy the distributing system of the Southern California Edison Company and the issuance of $12,500,000 bonds, reported yesterday that the vote for the power sale shows a considerable decrease in plurality and that there is a slight decrease in the margin for the bonds.

The boards have recounted 414 of the 755 precincts and expect to complete the count by tomorrow week.

The attorneys are Key, Eberhard and T. G. Anderson for the city; E. G. Pratt and Henry M. Willis for the Edison company; and W. H. Brown for the state board of equalization for account of the power sale contracts and the vote on the bonds. Altogether about 85,000 votes were cast on the election.

The suits were consolidated, the issues in both being similar, and both boards are occupying tables in Judge Meyer's courtroom.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. M. E. Martin, Resident for Over Thirty Years, Passes Away.

Mildred E. Martin, a resident of Los Angeles for thirty-three years, died Thursday. She was a native of South Carolina, came west to Texas in 1866 and to Los Angeles in 1886. She had a wide circle of friends and was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Order of the Eastern Star, the Order of the Golden Star and the Galpin Shakespeare Club.

She was a widow, W. F. Martin, of 6819 Hawthorne avenue, a son, Harry Lee Martin, and two daughters, Mrs. E. E. Tatum of Los Angeles and Mrs. G. L. Levy of Berkeley.

SAYS DOCTOR'S BILL.

GETS HE'S BANKRUPT.

J. Wallace Ross, a fireman of Pasadena, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy yesterday afternoon in Federal court, claiming liabilities of $218.50, of which $128 is owed to medical attendance and $140 owed to a newspaper. His assets are listed as a cow and household goods, valued at $197.88, or of which $100 is exempt from seizure.

Debts of $1304.84 are listed by Frohman Speers, in a petition for bankruptcy he filed yesterday in behalf of the Speers Motor Company. He has assets of $35, he says.

THIRTY THOUSAND PAY TRIBUTE

Secretary Daniels Given Ovation by Record Crowd in Balboa Park; Los Angeles Committee Extends Invitation: Vast Open-Air Ball.

BY MARY S. GULLIVER.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8.—More than 30,000 people gathered at the organ pavilion in Balboa Park this evening and gave an ovation to Secretary of the Navy Daniels. A crowd larger than any that ever gathered during the exposition at the park crowded every nook and corner in the vicinity of the organ pavilion clear up to the Plaza, and along the streets of the park.

Long before 7 o'clock the crowd gathered and, at the hour the first note from Tommasino's famous Italian by whatever route the company of officer chose. Great tables had been arranged for six blocks along Park boulevard, facing the park. Here the sailors and their families were met by women to the sailors as they filed by, and the men seated themselves on the grass in the park adjoining.

Their hospitality, mingled with the sailors, until the picnic became a great, jolly, though perfectly orderly affair.

About 5000 sailors picnicked in this way and talked to the citizens who were gathered about them. Later they attended the sports at the stadium. The luncheon picnic was under the auspices of the War Camp Community Service and the lunches were distributed by the women and girls of the organization, assisted by church groups.

HARD DAY FOR HIM.

Secretary Daniels put in a day of hard work, from early morning until this evening he inspected the various exhibits, and saw that the government improvements are to be made.

When the Secretary appeared this morning to join the committee waiting to show him about, he wore a gray business and flat straw hat.

MAYOR VOICES WELCOME

Executive Calls Upon Citizenry to Offer Warmest Hospitality to the Fleet.

In advance of the official and formal welcome to the Pacific Fleet, Mayor Snyder yesterday made public the following expression of welcome to the officers and men of the armada:

"Welcome to the Pacific Fleet!"

"It is an hour of great pride for Los Angeles when the officers and men of the Pacific Fleet enter her gates.

"The coming of the Pacific Fleet to Los Angeles is a cause for pride."

"The Pacific Coast has been given the recognition which the Atlantic Coast had all these years. It places the West on a par with the East."

"It gives Los Angeles new impetus politically, socially and commercially."

"We are proud to be here and to realize that the Pacific Fleet is a commercial asset, as well as a national asset."

"All that we have in the city of Los Angeles belongs to the Pacific Fleet. All that we have is laid at the feet of the gallant officers and crews of the most magnificent and glorious navy in the world.

"Our greetings are manifold. They come spontaneously from the jubilant people of Los Angeles, from the people of the world. They place our city at the disposal of the fleet and its gallant crews. They place our citizens at the disposal of the fleet and its gallant crews. They place our city at the disposal of the fleet and its gallant crews. They place our citizens at the disposal of the fleet and its gallant crews.

"The coming of the Pacific Fleet gives us a new official standing on the Atlantic coast.

"In exchange for this, Los Angeles can offer to the officers and crews of the Pacific Fleet the greatest hospitality of the world.

CONGRESSMAN ARRIVES.

Here to greet the Pacific Fleet on its arrival in Los Angeles harbor today and also to show Secretary Daniels the site of the proposed submarine base at the harbor, Congressman H. Z. Osborne arrived on the "Lark" over the Southern Pacific at 10:15 yesterday morning. The Congressman will make one of the mayor's party when it goes down to the harbor, and by special invitation will be mayor Sweeney tendered soon after his arrival.

A special committee of the Chamber of Commerce headed by Secretary Daniels will meet today at 10:30 a. m. in the Pacific to Southern California waters.

The Congressman said that the length of his stay here was unexpected and that he would probably again be needed at Washington. Due notice will be given him, he said, and he would make a return in time to take his part in the consideration of bills now in preparation. He had left Washington prior to the request for his presence here, but he would remain in session instead of taking a five weeks' recess beginning August 1, as he had planned to do. He would leave of absence for the purpose of greeting the fleet and is paired on the floor with Senator Stanford if any are had before his return.

IMPROVE DOR 1911 ACT
One of the first measures by the City Council in its program to improve, under the 1911 act, numerous streets where the property owners are responsible for the maintenance for permanent pavements, was taken by that body yesterday. It was the first time that the city district map for the permanent improvement of West Washington street from the intersection of the western city boundary to the

Furnishings That Possess Individuality

At this store the furnishing of a home has a significance, vastly more than merely merchandising in furniture.

Yet prices here, even for wonderful period designs, are consistently lower than one would imagine—unless one happened to be a regular Lyon-McKinney-Smith customer. Comparison proves.

REV. A. C. KLEINLEIN.

Rev. A. C. Kleinlein, who, during a sojourn of seven years in Southern California, has done much for Lutheranism in the Southland yesterday announced his resignation from the pastorate of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church. On account of ill health, Mr. Kleinlein tendered his resignation to the mission board of the Lutheran Ohio Synod some time ago, but his congregation has bent every effort to keep him, even going so far as to request the board not to accept the resignation. After full investigation, however, the board accepted his resignation and the pastor will preach his farewell sermon at the church tomorrow morning. Mr. Kleinlein will leave Los Angeles shortly for Evanston, Ind., where his church lives and in which city he was in charge of a church for fifteen years. Temporarily, the pastorate of Mt. Calvary Church will be in charge of William Hieronymus, a theological student from the seminary at Columbus, O. Later, it is promised, the church will appoint a regular pastor to the position. New worry wrinkles have been added to the farm manager's brow, too, by the discovery that his men have been in the habit of placing uncorked jugs at the bottom of the silos before filling and of reaping a whirlwind jug when the fodder is fed down the desired level.

To judge of the press agent's work, there will be but little for the jury selected to try Harry New for the brutal murder of a sweetheart to determine.

IV.
OUT do not get that idea that Jack is a top, or anything like a top. Catch him when he isn't looking—that is, when he is working, and you get a glimpse of why the Germans preferred to come out on a spring rather than dare their doom, like the gallant Spaniards at Santiago, and break out in battle array. Down in the bunkers and before the breastworks the heavens and the earth are in the gloom. Corpses and work on and on and on. In the dynamo rooms the keen-brained electricians touch wire here, with the deftness of a magician replace a fuse there. Against the sky—in the fighting top—swift eyes scan the distance, fliggy figures, and shoot the range elow to the fire-control. Down in the ammunition rooms the boys heave and tug at the shells, and others catch them at the bolts, race and lay them in rows beside the guns. In the turrets, begrimed and baked men, wedged in, shut off, jerk at the racks of powder, slam them in, sling home the breech block—fire! From fighting top, from conning tower, to sick bay, the ship is alert and tense, every man on his toes; black and dirty and maybe sploshed with blood, a gleam in his eye, a twist half locking the danger of it on his lips—such are the sailor boys of the modern navy.

And these sailor boys, as you watch them today on these very streets of ours, are as brave and bold and hardy as ever men were since they began going down to the sea in ships. They answer an old, old call. They may not know the lines, but their blood pounds to the rhythm of:

I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by;
And the wind's song and the white whale's shakin',
And a gray mist on the ocean's face and a gray dawn breaking."

Mistaken Identity.

Lightning knocked over three men who were sitting on boxes in front of Sawyer's one yesterday. The other two were knocked senseless; the one of them exclaimed, "Legs! I'm comin' right home."—[Milwaukee Journal.]

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE OLD MAN.

As man grows older in hoof and shoulder he has a frequent pain; his back is aching, his heart is breaking at every little strain. We should remember that life's December is cheerless, cold and sad; and not act bearish, but help and cherish the poor old falling dad. The old man stumbles and snarls and grumbles, but we should patient be; for time is sailing, and we'll be ailing, and weak, some day, as he. We're hale and hearty; Age is a party who seems afar, remote; but Time's a sprinter, and soon life's winter will come and get our goat. And when we totter and fuss and crier, as weary old men will, may those around us not stab and wound us, but ease us down the hill. As hair grows whiter the wayworn blighter needs kindness all the time; if you remind him that bow's behind him, you're guilty of a crime. The tip-pant lady who's rude to daddy can be no friend of mine, though that same critter may fairly glitter where social lions shine.

WALT MASON.

There are others, educated men, who, with no restraint, have poured out their agony of soul and sense of outrage in addresses and editorials and aroused their fellow-negroes as they never have been roused before. The lynchings, those horrible exhibitions of blood lust against which all good people are joining in apparently hopeless protest, have led to desperation among the blacks. The retired negro soldier, used to arms, returning from the war environment, resenting the ingratitude he sees in all of this, is prompted to CLAYTON, Aug. 8.—Thomas, pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, today pitched a perfect game, winning 3 to 0. Clayton's record is now 10 wins and 10 losses.

YANKS WIN SERIES. (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Chicago broke even today, winning 3 to 2 from Philadelphia. The score: CHICAGO 3, PHILADELPHIA 2.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 8.—Maj. S. M. Parker, U. S. A. CATCHER CADDY IS SOLD TO YIPPER. (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Forrest Cady, former Boston American League catcher, was purchased from Vernon by the Sacramento club, it was announced here today. Cady had been with the Tigers for a little over a month.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Catcher Clarence Brooks yesterday received a hurry-up call from Billy Arbus for San Francisco. Brooks is expected to join the team today.

President Powers stated last night that the sailors of the fleet will be admitted free to the ball park during the armada's sojourn offshore in our midst.

Dennis Gearin, the little guy who pitched for Oakland, is being roomed to work the Sunday afternoon game. This will please a lot of people who want to see if they can see him. Magnifying glasses instead of megaphones will be passed out to the bugs. They will enjoy watching Dennis hop around under the glass.

Charley Pile was present, but came out mainly to observe the score from Sacramento, where Salt Lake is playing. Charley must be a link to his own club. At least, it is significant that the Bees broke their own winning strike by losing with him watching the score.

Jimmy McGill, owner of the Indianapolis club yesterday conferred with J. Cal Ewing regarding the forthcoming post-season series. Ewing recently expressed himself as making this series for the minor league championship a permanent thing.

But for the fact that Hill plays center field with his shoulder blades pressed against the fence, Sam's wallop might have been a homer, even though Samuel doesn't claim to be a ten-second guy. Two runs in that round.

In the fifth Arlett whacked Crawford hard. Only a great stop by Ellis held the blow to a double. Lane walked, and Grover forced Arlett. Things were not going right to suit Killefer and he threw Paul Fitterly into the fracas. Paul, who has been coaching at third, where he has a habit of spanking runners as they slide, was thrown out at second by the difficult corner, was

Welcome Gallant Fleet!

Guardians of Our Far-Flung Golden Coast!

—Brave Lads in Blue, we, the people of this "Sunset Commonwealth" are proud of you and the great ships that you are bringing to our waters.

—Yours is to be the service of guarding this, our farthest-west coast all up and down its vast reaches; and, as you guide our majestic gray ships toward the north or to the south, from time to time, may no unleashing of their hurtling fire dogs be necessary!

—When, manned by you, their giant prows shall thrum our deep-rolling waves into glinting, lace-like patternings, and the speech of their diapason voices is heard afar, may they be on tours of genial scrutiny, only!

—Again Welcome, Dear Lads in Blue!

—Welcome, stately ships!

Then Wrote He Hoped She'd Have a Hard Winter.

Undying affection for her, which Mrs. Lillian May Bracken says William Armstrong Bracken expressed and which was the inducement to marry him last June 28, accompanied to perform the ceremony. The arraignment occurred the same day, according to allegations in the annual report suit filed by Mrs. Bracken yesterday.

She stated he told her he would never give her up, and that he would go through hell and high water" rather than not get her.

Last Thursday, Mrs. Bracken says Mr. Bracken visited her at her home, 1016 South Hope street, and wrote her a letter. Addressing her by an opprobrious name, he said:

"I have had a week here alone and to your and your hell, I will write you a longer letter. Run around with you bunch; maybe they will keep you this winter. They had a letter, and I don't know if you do. I don't know from me. I am though, and you can go blimby to — for all care. I don't give a — if you don't want to have got to go to go to, and where you sleep, or make a home does not make a bit of difference to me. Don't write or anything, because your letter will be to me. I don't know. What's more, you need not try to find where I am, because I am broke and it would not do you any good except that I might get you a gift. I don't know. I will have a winter, and that your means will

Sky to Rain Posies on the Fleet.

FLORAL BOMBS FROM PLANES.

De Mille's Squadron to Pelt Ships with Posies.

Hundred Motor Boats, Too, will Greet the Fleet.

To Take Officers on Drives and to Country Clubs.

Cecil B. De Mille has arranged for twenty-five airplanes to form a spectacular feature in the official welcome to the Pacific Fleet. The planes will move out into the air over the fleet twenty-five minutes ahead of the time for dropping anchor, and immediately after the ships have come to a standstill the airplanes will begin their bombardment with roses and other blossoms. Thousands of fragrant flowers will be dropped upon the decks of the armada.

While this is going on a fleet of two motorboats will glide from the harbor, and in semicircular formation they will approach the flagship, dipping their colors in honor of the visitors. Thenceforth each boat will visit some particular vessel, where a committee will go aboard and convey greetings to the ship's officers and extend the freedom of the yacht clubs of Southern California.

One hundred officers will be detailed for the automobile drives each morning of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. These officers are to be met at the Pacific Electric station at 10 o'clock by citizens with automobiles and taken to points of general interest and a tour of the city. Each day fifty officers will be entertained at luncheon at the Midway Country Club and fifty at the Los Angeles Country Club. At each place there will be a buffet luncheon and program of dancing and music, with many ladies present to help entertain the officers.

FOR BANDMASTERS OF THE PACIFIC FLEET.

An invitation to the bandmasters of the Pacific Fleet, to a special dinner and reception to be given in their honor, Tuesday evening, at the Grand Club House, was extended yesterday by the club. The invitation was sent to Admiral Hugh Rodman by the general entertainment committee, and there is no doubt of its acceptance.

The program probably will be given in the theater and as at present made up will be given by Seward Simons, Carroll McComas, Constance Balfour, Charles W. Cadman, Alfred Wallenstein, Grace Freney, the Zoellner Quartette, and possibly a troupe of dancers conducted by Hans Linné. Each club member may bring one woman guest.

FINAL FLEET PLANS.

Women's Organizations Complete Details of Entertainment.

Final plans for the handling of street dances and other entertainments to be given here in connection with the visit of the fleet were adopted at a meeting of the City Mothers, under the leadership of Mrs. Aletha Gilbert and the War Camp Community Service, in co-operation with representatives of various women's organizations, at the Normal Hill Center last night.

Arrangements for co-operation with the American Legion, whose members will be guards and floor committees at the different dances, were made at the meeting, and the final details of the affairs discussed. Capt. Jesse G. Foster addressed the women, more than 200 of whom were on hand to receive final instructions.

IN EIGHTY YEARS OLD.

Mrs. Sarah E. Stevens, pioneer resident of Los Angeles, celebrated her eightieth birthday last week, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lillian Sanborn. Mrs. Stevens, who is an honorary member of the Wednesday Morning Club, was one of the founders of the East Side Congregational Church.

TAKE GREETINGS SOUTH.

Los Angeles Committee with Secretary Daniels on the Flagship.

a turn-down collar and he carried a stick.

The Secretary was taken by automobile to view the marine base at Dutch Flats, the view of the harbor from Point Loma, the cooling station at La Playa and the hospital site in Balboa Park. At noon the Secretary was taken to the naval station at North Island and shown about the island where about $4,000,000 will be spent by the time the buildings are completed. Here he was the luncheon guest of Commander E. W. Spencer of the naval station.

In the afternoon he went to the shipyard where the concrete ships are being completed. Afterward the Secretary viewed the bases and sites from the bay, being taken about the harbor in a launch. Millions of dollars, the authorities say, must be spent along the Pacific Coast to make it practical for a fleet. The present facilities are admittedly inadequate and the naval authorities freely announce that the ports of San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Bremerton and minor ports must be built up. The work on hand today is to determine what San Diego needs.

San Diego aimed to put forth the strongest men it had for the work of showing how this city can accommodate the navy's needs. The list consists of George Burnham, G. Davidson, Congressman Kettner, President Rufus Choate of the Harbor Board, President Melville Klauber and Vice-President A. P. Johnson, Jr., of the Chamber of Commerce, Harbor Master Capt. J. Brennan, City Manager W. H. Judy and Frank Spaulding of the Chamber of Commerce. Rear-Admiral C. W. Parks, chief of the bureau of yards and docks; Rear-Admiral J. E. McKean, chief of the bureau of construction and repair; Rear-Admiral C. M. McCormack, Medical Corps, and Rear-Admiral J. J. Zimm, commander of the Twelfth Naval District. Half a dozen aides completed the Secretary's party.

ENTERTAIN MRS. DANIELS. While the Secretary was being taken over the naval base sites, Mrs. Daniels, in charge of Mrs. C. J. Wilde and Mrs. George McKenzie, was entertained with an auto ride and bay trip. The two young sons of the Secretary, Jonathan and Frank, who arrived last night, having ing been delayed by washouts on the road when they stopped at the Grand Canyon, were shown about the city by a committee of ladies composed of Gilbert Davidson, Wharton Stenhouse and Thomas Drummond.

Last night upon their arrival they were taken at once to the residence of Mrs. W. P. B. Prentice, who entertained with a dancing party for young girls and boys in honor of the Daniels boys.

The Los Angeles committee of citizens to greet Secretary Daniels arrived at 1 p.m. The party, headed by Dr. Randolph Hill, chairman, was composed of Dr. and Mrs. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Shelley, Mrs. J. F. Sartori, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Treat, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dickson, Col. and Mrs. George Demas, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Meserve, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Newby, Dr. John H. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hellman, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Avery, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. Vandewater of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Carter.

The ladies of the party attended the reception held this afternoon in the women's headquarters at Balboa Park and the men were shown about the city by a committee of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce.

This evening they met Secretary Daniels informally and attended the meeting and concert at the organ pavilion in Balboa Park.

After the speaking the Secretary went on board the New Mexico on which he will make the trip to Los Angeles. The Los Angeles committee accompanied him and his guests on the flagship and will return on the ship. The New Mexico will sail tomorrow morning at 5 o'clock.

NOVEL INSTALLATION BY MASONIC CHAPTER. CLASS OF OVER ONE HUNDRED TO TAKE PART IN OPEN-AIR CEREMONIAL.

For the first time in the United States, an installation in York Rite Masonry on a large scale and in the open air, will be conducted today when Hollywood Chapter, 126, Royal Arch Masons, will have a class of 115 candidates and East Gate Chapter will have five, who will be advanced to the honorary degree of Mark Master by the Hollywood chapter. Other candidates are expected to bring the class total to 125. It is believed the attendance will be about 600.

In the evening there will be a barbecue with Jose Romero in charge. United States District Judge Blewett, Grand Commander, Knights Templar of California, will be the chief speaker. William Rhodes Hervey, Past Grand Master, will be among many prominent Royal Arch members in attendance, as all chapters in Southern California are joining with the Hollywood chapter in the unique event. One hundred automobiles or more will leave the Masonic Temple, 1725 1/2 Highland avenue, at 1 p.m. for the sequestered spot in one of the canyons, where the degree will be conferred. A concert by the band from Golden West Commandery, 43, Knights Templar, will be entertainment at night. Admission will be by ticket only and for those who have sent in their reservations, which at present number more than 100.

The Royal Arch affair is in charge of Capt. Harry Jones and Charles E. Hoag of the Hollywood chapter, of which W. M. Wilber is High Priest, J. W. Wilson, King, and J. W. McLellan, Scribe.

DID HIS DUTY.

Court Justifies Engineer Whose Footing Scared Horses.

Alfred Fero failed to recover damages from the Southern Pacific on the ground that his horses became frightened when the engineer whistled for the crossing Mr. Fero was driving over. Judge Monroe held that the engineer was performing his duty when he pulled the whistle cord, and if a driver suffers following this precaution, he has no cause for damages. The horses ran away and injured Mr. Fero.

RAISING BUGS TO EAT BUGS. Read About Alhambra's Unique Insectary in the Farm Section.

The timber men who combat fire with fire have nothing on the Southern California citrus growers who fight bugs with bugs. There is no stranger activity to be found than that of breeding parasites to eat the insect pests of the groves. Over in Alhambra, where bug culture has come to be one of the important industries, the State Insectary has been converted into a breeding establishment for both pests and parasites. The pests are bred to feed the parasites while the latter are being brought up to a size to be turned loose against other pests in the orchards. It is a fascinating procedure and the whole story is told in our illustrations in our Farm and Tractor Section.

The search for the ideal forage crop for arid and semi-arid regions goes on apace in Southern California. One of the most interesting and extensive test plots to be found is that of Aggeler and Musser on West Sixteenth street, Los Angeles. Here are being grown forage plants imported from all over the world. All are being tried out under a variety of conditions to the end that new plants of a hardy and adaptable type may be found for ranchmen. The page given over to these experiments is one of the most interesting in the next farm department.

California's "York State" district, the Yucalpa Valley, comes in for another beautifully illustrated page. This foothill region is producing apples and cherries that compete with the best and is playing an increasingly important part in the Southland's economy. Another page is given over to the Malaga grape industry in the Imperial Valley. This page, too, is a beauty.

This is a new number. Be sure to get it with tomorrow's big Sunday Times.

HARRIS CASE IN HANDS OF JURY.

Artesia Bank Robbery Trial in its Last Stages.

Alibi and Bribe Allegation Figure in Evidence.

Jail Break Prelude to Long Struggle in Court.

The fate of Lewis B. Harris, charged with looting the First National Bank of Artesia of approximately $25,000 the night of March 25, will be in the hands of a jury in Judge Taft's court this morning. At that time Judge Taft will give his instructions.

Harris was defended by Guy Eddie. Among other statements, Harris declared he had bribed with money Officers Holbrook and Llewellyn of the Long Beach police force. Francis Kennedy Harris, his so-called wife, testified that Harris was at a party she gave the night the bank was robbed. The mud he was alleged to have got on his clothing the night of the bank robbery, he said he picked up while shooting pheasants in Colorado.

Holbrook and Llewellyn took the stand and denied the alleged bribe. Deputy District Attorney Clark, who was called to the stand by Attorney Eddie, testified that in a certain conversation with Harris and others in the County Jail, nothing was said regarding the payment of $800 to the Long Beach officers.

The officers say they have a long record of Harris's activities in the criminal line. He has been quite successful in breaking jail, having escaped from the County Jail here recently. The most remarkable feature about him is his small hands, which are white, and the fingers are slender and exceedingly supple. The trial consumed two weeks.

SAYS HUSBAND FLED WITH HER CHILDREN.

OKLAHOMA WOMAN FILES A SUIT TO GET CUSTODY OF HER OFFSPRING.

Mrs. Anna Lou Abernathy has come to Los Angeles from Okmulgee, Okla., to recover possession of her children, Ina, 8, and Walter, 6 years old, on the ground that her husband, W. M. Abernathy, struck her in the presence of the children while living in Oklahoma and is therefore an unfit person to have control of them.

While they were living apart in Okmulgee, the husband is said to have started habeas corpus proceedings to get the children. Before the case was heard, he is alleged to have obtained the children while they were on their way to school and brought them to this city. Yesterday Mrs. Abernathy filed suit against her husband for the custody of the children.

STRIKE TALK IS CRITICISED.

P. E. Heads Do Not Believe Men Will Mar Great Fleet Celebration.

Despite the many rumors which have been about recently that a strike of Pacific Electric trainmen might occur at any hour, officials of the company, after a lengthy conference, expressed the belief yesterday that no labor trouble will be brought about to mar the success of the fleet celebration and disgrace the people of this city in the eyes of the navy.

From what could be learned last night the radical element among the trainmen, numbering perhaps 100 out of 1800 conductors and motormen, has been strongly urging a strike to take place some time today—possible after thousands of passengers have been taken to this harbor to witness the arrival of the great Pacific Fleet.

Among the radical element yesterday there was some mouthing to the effect that its members would never contribute another dollar to the cause of organized labor unless the strike committee called a walkout today, "while the men have the chance." The committee, however, they wish to do so without taking a strike vote. On the other hand, the motormen, it is understood, cannot strike without taking a strike vote. It was learned yesterday that the local committee, which is headed by C. D. Roundtree, a conductor, does not wish to assume responsibility of calling a strike, and has put the matter up to an international officer.

Pacific Electric trainmen admitted last night that the local committee had telegraphed to New Orleans for J. A. Farquharson, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, to come here to take charge of the situation, the impression among some being that the committee felt as though it had got into deep water and did not know which way to turn. Many of the employees frankly admit that they feel that public sentiment will ruin their chances for success if they strike at such an inopportune time and spoil the celebration.

Pacific Electric officials stated yesterday that they believe the Brotherhood has about 75 per cent. of the men. They said, but they doubt that more than 50 per cent. could be induced to participate in a strike. It seems that scores of the veteran trainmen are holding life passes and family passes for themselves and their families, and are reluctant to leave the employ of the company.

O. A. Smith, general passenger agent of the Pacific Electric, though stating that officials do not look for any trouble, declared that in any event a fairly good service will be maintained.

He expressed the belief that the harbor can only be handled by the unlimited facilities of the Pacific Electric, and thinks that, barring an unforeseen emergency, the road should handle 100,000 sightseers today. He declares that the steam cars cannot handle the crowds in the event of a strike on the interurban, and that thousands of persons, as well as the sailors, would be doomed to disappointment.

It was rumored last night that Paul Shoup, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, and directing head of its several electric transportation lines, is due here today to take charge of the situation, but Pacific Electric officials could not verify this.

SHOCK KILLS HER. Prisoner's Mother Finds at Jail that Son is Not Free.

Shock caused by keen disappointment that her son was not at liberty, as she had anticipated, caused the death yesterday in the County Jail of Mrs. Martha Fox, mother of George Wilson, a prisoner in the institution. Mrs. Fox, anticipating that her son would be released after a burglary charge against him was dismissed, came to the jail to take him home. She learned there that her son was being held because a State probation officer claims that he, after being released on probation, associated with well-known characters and future admissions of crime.

While the son was talking to her the mother gave a cry and died shortly from heart disease. For some time the son, refusing to be comforted, kissed and embraced the cold form. The body was taken to the morgue of Alvarez and Blue, Court and Olive streets.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID TO USEFUL CITIZEN.

MASONIC FUNERAL SERVICES FOR G. E. PILLSBURY ARE LARGELY ATTENDED.

Many friends gathered yesterday afternoon to pay a last tribute to the memory of George E. Pillsbury, whose funeral service was conducted at the Masonic Temple, Pico and Figueroa streets.

The ceremonies were in charge of the officers of Pentalfa Lodge No. 202, F. & A. M., and were augmented by a short eulogy by Rev. E. S. Hodgins of the First Unitarian Church and the rendition of "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Abide with Me" by a mixed quartette.

Ritualistic work of the fraternal organization was most impressively given, the floral offerings elaborate and the large attendance of co-workers and business associates of Mr. Pillsbury made of the service a sincere tribute to the memory of a useful citizen.

Mr. Pillsbury, who died at his home, 1242 Orange street, Tuesday morning, was best known to Los Angeles citizens as chief engineer of the Pacific Electric, which position he had held since the organization of the company. Prior to that time he had charge of the engineering department of the Los Angeles Railway. He had resided in Southern California since 1888.

Men who had been employed in the offices of Mr. Pillsbury acted as pallbearers and escorted the remains to the lodge rooms to Rosedale Crematory.

THE LAST OF EARTH. Funeral services were conducted yesterday at the chapel of Pierce Bros. & Co. for Harry Stephen Pierce, who died Tuesday night at his home, 1541 West Forty-ninth street. Burial was in Rosedale Cemetery. At one time a candidate for Mayor, Mr. Pierce was active in Republican circles as both the State and the city for many years. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Mary Jane McCallum.
